Rebellion (two sentence story)

👁 60 ✓ 8 ⭐ 9

Chapter 1 by Karra

Can you hear the people sing? Singing the song of angry men.

Chapter 2 by Florenceia

It's the music of a people who will not be slaves again.

"It's the music of the people you will not be slaves again," sings the riot at full volume. People gather in the thousands to protest their corrupt rulers.

Chapter 3 by Mason Lee

And then the shooting starts.

"When the beating of your heart echoes the beating of the drums," I sing quietly.

Chapter 4 by Mason Lee

He was gone.

I knew it.

I saw the bullets tear through his body as he fell to the ground, lifeless. Just like that, my life was forever changed.

Chapter 6 by tiltedgypz

"I loved him as a brother," I've also known, the rebellion, was failing under his leadership. I know, now, "they will look to me," to lead them, back to becoming an unreckoned force, to deal with.

Chapter 7 by Mason Lee

But I can't do it alone, I can't do it without him.

I must remain strong, but how can I when I've just lost everything in a moment?

Chapter 8 by Magdalene

Rebel, they whispered in my head, silently and subtly telling me that, whatever anyone said, they'd never mean it. Rebel, such a powerful word and so quickly done that I think I'm already insurgent.
